

George Livingston, CPA

Consultant

ABOUT GEORGE

A solution-focused financial professional with 30+ years of experience in accounting, financial planning and analysis, and SEC and regulatory reporting, George is a versatile and highly skilled CPA with a proven track record of leadership and mentoring. He can work independently or collaboratively with a team to design, organize, direct, and manage change for conclusive results.

George has extensive experience working in various positions of increasing responsibilities within the banking and finance industries. Before joining the Kaiser Consulting team, he was a senior manager of financial and regulatory reporting and a director of contract accounting at a leading Fortune 500 global provider of data-driven marketing and loyalty solutions for consumer-facing companies across all industries. He is adept in strengthening internal controls, supporting SOX compliance, defining financial objectives, implementing process improvements, and leading teams.

George's leadership and technical skills make him highly capable in evaluating performance, and developing and implementing strategic plans to improve processes and create operational efficiencies.
